

No Accommodation network
London group

Hosting workshop Saturday 26 June

How to offer hospitality to the strangers within our gates

- Are you concerned about the needs of people refused protection in the UK?
- Do you live in London?
- Do you have spare room?
- Would you consider making this available to help people in this situation?
- Would your religious or community group consider setting up a project to support and encourage hosting in your area?
- If you cannot host, would you support others, who can?

Come to this 1/2 day information and training session

The workshop will cover:

- Who needs hosting?
- What is involved in hosting?
- What support is available to potential hosts?
- What help is available to people refused protection?
- How to develop a hosting project?
- Can I help if I can't host?

Members of No Accommodation network in London and across the UK are already responding to the needs of refused asylum seekers and forced migrants. They lobby for changes to asylum policy, campaign for a route into citizenship and arrange practical assistance for people faced with homelessness and destitution.

Are you willing to join the growing network of hosts and projects offering accommodation in their own homes to people with no recourse to public funds?

Name
Address
Email
Phone

Church/organisation (if any)
Dietary or access requirements

Where did you hear about this information and training day?

Fill in and email your details to Tatiana.Tomayeva@praxis.org.uk

Date
Saturday 26 June
10.00-1.00 (followed by lunch)

Venue
Praxis
Pott Street
London E2 0EF

For further info please contact Tatiana at Praxis:
tatiana.tomayeva@praxis.org.uk,
(020) 7749 7609

NACCOM London: working to find accommodation and support for destitute asylum seekers and other forced migrants with no recourse to public funds

